The Amity Institute of Liberal Arts (AILA) organized a thought-provoking panel discussion on “Budget 2026: A Multi-Perspective Panel Analysis” on 27 February 2026 at the Central Auditorium. The session brought together distinguished academicians and experts to discuss the key features of the Union Budget 2026–27 and its significance in a rapidly changing global and national landscape.

This panel discussion also marks a significant milestone as the first major academic event organised by the Amity Institute of Liberal Arts (AILA) at Amity University Bengaluru. The AILA team — Dr. Shreya Suppannavar Dr. Anee Bhattacharyya, Akash Jash, and Shantanu Sharma — are grateful to all participants, faculty members, and students who contributed to the success of this event.

The event served as an important academic platform for students to connect classroom learning with contemporary policy developments. With active participation from UG, PG, and PhD students, the discussion explored the implications of the budget for business, taxation, startups, careers, public expenditure, and long-term economic growth.

Prof. Krishna Raj highlighted the strategic role of Capital Expenditure (Capex) in strengthening infrastructure, generating employment, and encouraging private investment. His analysis was framed through the idea of the “Three Kartavyas” — Sustainable Growth, Capacity Building, and Inclusive Development. He also emphasized the importance of sectors such as agriculture, MSMEs, semiconductors, rare earths, the youth-driven Orange Economy, and the development of tier-2 and tier-3 cities.

Adding a broader macroeconomic perspective, Dr. S. R. Keshava examined issues related to fiscal consolidation, quality of public expenditure, and productivity-led growth, while also reflecting on the structural challenges within India's fiscal framework. The panel was further enriched by the valuable insights of Dr. Duragesh K. Pujari and Dr. Balkrishna Bendre, as well as by enthusiastic student engagement throughout the session.

Key Highlights

1. Capex as a Driver of Growth

The discussion underscored the importance of capital expenditure as a catalyst for infrastructure development, job creation, and investment expansion, positioning it as a major pillar of India's growth strategy.

2. Budget Priorities Beyond Numbers

Speakers examined how the budget reflects wider national priorities such as inclusive development, capacity building, fiscal responsibility, and support for emerging sectors, including technology, MSMEs, and regional development.

3. Emerging Challenges in a Changing Economy

The panel encouraged critical reflection on important contemporary concerns such as AI and jobless growth, the shift from the primary sector to services, the gap between allocated and actual expenditure, and the need for a balanced AI-driven development model.

The session successfully bridged policy analysis and academic inquiry, leaving students with meaningful insights into the Union Budget 2026–27 and its broader relevance to India's economic and developmental future. Through such initiatives, AILA continues to foster informed dialogue and critical engagement with issues that shape public life and national progress.
